XMAS!

How it is to be Observed in Fort Wayne.

The Occasion Was Ushered Into Observance as a Religious Festival Rather Slowly.

Church Services, Festivals and Sunday School Entertainments—Mid-winter Thoughts

"A Merry Christmas" will greet every ear to-morrow morning. Husband and wife will exchange the words, sister will say it to brother and lovers will whisper it to their sweethearts. The hearts of little children will leap with joy as their eyes feast on the toys and playthings the legendary Santa Claus is supposed to have given them. All will be gladness, gaiety and mirth. The story of the "Child Jesus," the "Shepherds" and pious Christmas tales, will be related and then even the unbeliever will look on the occasion with reverence and must extol the grandeur of the great Christian feast, now more popular and universal than ever it was. The earliest mention of the 25th day of December as Christmas day is found in an ancient catalogue of church festivals about 354 A. D. And it is surprising to see with what alacrity the date was received and the nativity celebrated throughout Christendom. It seemed as though the world had been waiting for this festival of divine and human childhood, and was ready to welcome it at once with songs of joy. In the year 360 it was already celebrated by vast multitudes thronging the churches. Twenty years later Antioch had taken it up with great popular enthusiasm. And in little more than fifty years from its earliest suggestion, the observance of December 25 as the day of nativity had become the universal practice of Christians.

In the midst of all this joy, this thanksgiving and praise there are those who cannot join the merry throng. Death may bring its sorrow, sickness its gloom and sin its pangs that no music can brighten, but the poor we always have with us. Don't forget them. The cause of charity is one in which the whole world must enlist. To extend a helping hand, to lift up the fallen, heal the sick and reverently lay away the dead has been the spirit of true manhood and womanhood ever been consecrated. The hospitals, the relief societies, the charity organizations, the ministers of God, and Christian men and women may be mindful that their neighbors are less fortunate, but in a generosity, like Fort Wayne, with its bustle and business, many forget that every person is constituted a charity society, created to do some one good, make some happy. Do this, bear it in mind, and you'll sit down pleasanter to your Christmas dinner.

The Sunday schools have undertaken a creditable work, that of giving Christmas trees and the pleasures the blazing fires and their sweet and pretty hangings afford to all children. People of worldly means have these luxuries at home, but the churches open them to all. You will be angered at the little ones and declare they will worry the life out of you, but you would not part with any one of them for anything on earth, and at each succeeding Christmas you begin to look about for something to make the little darlings wild with delight at dawn of Christmas day. Where one little miss would prefer a blue-eyed doll with flaxen hair, another would go into ecstasies over a toy wash tub; or where one "Young America" would be overjoyed at a hobby horse, another would be contented with nothing less than a drum and a soldier cap. So runs the world away.

CHRISTMAS CHIMES.

There will be solemn service in all the Catholic churches to-morrow. At the cathedral first or early service will be at 5 o'clock, celebrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, attended by all the clergy of his household. A short sermon will be preached by one of the priests. At 10:30 the bishop will again pontificate, and also preach. The choir will sing Gounod's Messe Solennelle at 5, and at 10:30 they will sing the Messe du Sacre Cœur, by the same author. These are both considered the best compositions in church music of modern times. The choir has devoted much time to rehearsing them, and the difficult parts have been well mastered. Worshipers at the cathedral to-morrow will greatly appreciate these strictly ecclesiastical productions. At the several services the offerings of the faithful, as is customary in Christmas day in all the Catholic churches of the city, will be given for the orphan children that receive shelter in the two asylums of the Fort Wayne diocese. The afternoon services will be at 3 o'clock and will also be celebrated by the bishop of the diocese. After vespers the benediction will be given.

There will be services at Trinity Episcopal church Christmas morning at 10:45. Rector W. N. Webb will officiate and the surpliced choir will be assisted by Messrs. Sayner and Woolsey, of the Mozart quartet. The musical program will be elaborate. The Sunday school entertainment will be at the church Sunday evening. There will be a Christmas tree, the usual gifts, and Miss Kittie Hinks, of Birmingham, Eng., will sing a solo. Mr. H. P. Sayner is now training the Trinity choir for Christmas.

At Emanuel's Lutheran church there will be Christmas services and the usual Christmas tree to-night. Similar services will also be observed at Zion's Lutheran church to-night. Christmas day festivities will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church to-morrow, the Christmas tree is to be lighted at 6 o'clock in the morning. There will be a Christmas tree at the Salem Reform church to-night.

The usual Christmas entertainment of the Christian Sunday school will be held in the church, corner of Jefferson and Griffith streets, this evening at 7 p. m. The program will consist of singing, recitations, etc., and will conclude with a tableaux entitled "Santa Claus at Home."

Next Saturday the ladies of the Relief Union will give a Christmas dinner to the members of the industrial school and their families. Contributions of edibles will be received at the rooms of the school in the Third Presbyterian church, at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning.

At the Third Presbyterian church a holiday giving service will be held Tuesday evening of next week, at which an admission price will be a gift of not less than ten cents in value, and the presents thus secured will be distributed among the needy.

At Grace Reformed church, the Sunday school festival will occur on Christmas (Friday) night. A telegraph message from old Santa Claus, dated "Greenland, Dec. 23d" will be read to gladden little hearts.

At the Second Presbyterian church the festival to-night will be called "Catching Santa Claus." Mr. Win. Bash will impersonate the character of the children's patron saint, and a grand time is assured.

The new Sunday-school room of Trinity Lutheran church will be opened with a festival this evening, in which the members of the Sabbath school will join in a grand jubilee festival of song.

At Wayne street M. E. church, a snow house festival with Santa Claus and big lot of gifts for members of the Sunday school, will be the program this evening.

All older members of the Trinity church choir are requested to be present this evening to rehearse for the last time their Christmas music.

At the United Brethren church there will be a Christmas festival, with lots of presents for the little ones, to-morrow, Christmas day.

There will be a Christmas celebration at the Reformed orphan home, arranged by Supt. J. Rettig.

"Take the bull by the horns" is an old adage, but you take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup by the tea spoonful. A few drops for a child. One bottle will save the lives of a family. For cough, colds, bronchitis, etc., it is excellent and safe.

The price of cigarettes, up to within a short time, has been fifteen cents a bunch of twenty cigarettes. Now at most places they are sold for ten cents a bunch. Just as they are getting real cheap the London Lancet devotes a page to showing that the cigarette is the most harmful way of using tobacco. The harm is somewhat mitigated by using a tube and stuffing that tube with cotton. The trouble about the use of tobacco is that its effects are cumulative, and the bad effects do not stop when you quit the use of it.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE Cod Liver Oil, With Hypophosphates, Very Palatable and Efficacious in Wasting Diseases.

Dr. C. T. Bromser, Rochester, N. Y., says: "After having used Scott's Emulsion with decided benefit upon myself, I have taken great pleasure in recommending it since in the various conditions of wasting in which it is indicated,"

THE CHRISTMAS STOCKING.

BY H. C. DODGE.

"Dear Santa Claus," wrote little Will, in letters truly shocking, "I've been a good boy, so please fill a heaped up this stocking. I want a drum to make me a tank and drive my mamma crazy. I want a doggie I can kick so he will not get lazy. I want a powder gun to shoot right at my sister Annie, and a big trumpet I can toot just awful loud at granny. I want a drollie big false face to scare in the our baby. I want a pony I can race around the parlor, maybe. I want a little hatchet, too, so I can do some chopping upon our grand piano new when mamma goes a-shopping. I want a nice hard rubber ball to smash all into kinders the great big mirror in the hall and lots an' lots of winders. An' candy that'll make me sick so I can all night will hold me an' make me get the doctor quick an' never try to scold me. An' Santa Claus, if he says I am naughty it's a story. Jus' say if he whips me I'll die and go to kingdom glory."

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES IN QUEEN ELIZABETH'S GIRLHOOD.

It was Christmas Eve. The great hall of Hatfield House gleamed with the light of many candles that flashed upon scone, and armor, and polished floor. Holly and mistletoe, rosemary and bay, and all the decorations of an old-time English Christmas were tastefully arranged. A burst of laughter rang through the hall, as through the ample doorway and down the broad stair trooped the motley train of the Lord of Misrule to open the Christmas revels. A fierce and ferocious looking fellow was he, with his great green mustache and his ogre-like face. His dress was a gorgeous parti-colored jerkin and half-hose, trunks, ruff, slouch-boots of Cordova leather, and high, befeathered steeple hat. His long staff, topped with a fool's head, cap and bells, rang loudly on the floor, as preceded by his diminutive but pompous page, he led his train around and around the great hall, lustily singing the chorus:

"Like Prince and King he leads the ring;
Right merrily we go. Sing hey-trix, trim-go-trix,
Under the mistletoe!"

A menagerie let loose or the most dyspeptic of after-dinner dreams could not be more bewildering than was this motley train of the Lord of Misrule. Giants and dwarfs, dragons and griffins, hobby-horses and goblins. Robin Hood and the Grand Turk, bears and boars and fantastic animals that never had a name, boys and girls, men and women, in every imaginable costume and device—around and around the hall they went, still ringing out the chorus:

"Sing hey-trix, trim-go-trix,
Under the mistletoe!"

Then, standing in the center of his court, the Lord of Misrule bade his herald declare that from Christmas Eve to Twelfth Night he was Lord Supreme; that, with his magic art, he transformed all there into children, and charged them, on their fealty, to act only as such. "I absolve them all from wisdom," he said; "I bid them be just wise enough to make fools of themselves, and do decree that none shall sit apart and eke in self-sufficiency to laugh at others;" and then the fun commenced.—E. S. Brooks, in St. Nicholas.

A THOUGHTFUL SWEETHEART.

"Only one thing I ask, darling," she whispered.

"What is it, my own sweet?" he yelled.

"Let our engagement be a secret for another month."

"Why? No, let me tell the world you are mine. Let me show them the prize I have won."

"Not for a month, dearest—one, one little month, I beg of you."

"Why do you want to keep it a secret? I fear you do not love me."

"I adore you. You are the only man I ever loved. But you are poor—and—"

"But I will be rich. With you, love, I will work for wealth."

"Yes, darling, yes. But Harry is wealthy, George is well off, William has plenty, and several of my admirers have money."

"Still thinking of your admirers?"

"Yes, dear, for Christmas is next week, and they have all given me handsome presents on previous occasions."

"Thoughtful angel, forgive me. Let us wait a year."

THAT pealed the bells more loud and deep—
"God is not dead; nor doth he sleep!"
The wrong shall fail,
The right prevail,
With peace on earth, good will to men!

DEATH

To Be Dealt to Treacherous Apaches.

Bloodhounds and Trained Fighters to be Put on Their Trail at Once.

A New Postmaster Kicked Out of Office and a Federal Marshal Summoned.

TO KILL THEM.

This is the Program Against the Apaches.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
DEMING, N. M., Dec. 24.—The leading citizens of Silver City propose prosecuting a war of extermination against the Apaches. The citizens are determined to raise money by subscription for the purchase of a pack of bloodhounds and for again equipping and putting the local militia in the field. Over $3,000 is pledged for the purchase of bloodhounds. It was also determined to raise a picked company of 300 experienced Indian fighters to go to war.

KICKED OUT.

A Postmaster Roughly Handled.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
MILWAUKEE, Dec. 24.—Among President Cleveland's appointments before the convening of congress, was that of Dr. Everhard, as postmaster at Ripon. This morning he appeared at the office, presented his commission and the discharge of the old postmaster, and demanded that the office be turned over to him. His demands were ignored and he was kicked into the street by the postmaster. A United States marshal has been telegraphed for and will go to Ripon this afternoon.

A Derelict Wabash Trustee Resigns.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
WABASH, Dec. 24.—Mr. John Wharton, trustee of this (Noble) township, who was so recently found short in his accounts, yesterday resigned his office at the request of his bondsmen, and turned over the effects of his office to County Auditor Haazen. There are no orders outstanding. The total amount of Wharton's shortage is $1,903, which his bondsmen will have to pay. His successor has not been appointed, but the position will be tendered to ex-Sheriff Ase Ross who was one of Wharton's bondsmen.

The Hendricks Monument.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 24.—The executive committee of the Hendricks Monument association has been discussing the suggestion in the newspapers that congress appropriate $10,000 in aid of the construction of a memorial statue. The result of the discussion was the unanimous adoption of a resolution that no such appropriation should be expected or asked, but that the association should depend alone upon voluntary donations by the people for the money necessary to erect the monument.

New York News.

By telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Grant monument fund has reached total $111,728. $500 was received from the viceroy of China and the Chinese minister.
Wm. Giles, who claims the title of champion wing shot of England, has arrived and proposes to arrange a series of matches at pigeon shooting with American experts.

An Oyster Fight.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
EASTON, Md., Dec. 24.—A fierce battle took place in the Poplar Island narrows Tuesday night, between a fleet of eight dredge boats and one of the oyster police steamers. Several shots were exchanged and finally the steamer's cannon dispersed the dredges.

Sent Up.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
BUFFALO, Dec. 24.—Joseph Wilkins, formerly agent of the Michigan Central railroad in Buffalo, who defaulted for several thousand dollars a few years ago was to-day sentenced to Auburn prison for five years.

The Striking Miners.

and second pool met to consider the advisability of returning to work.

WORKING THE WICKED.

The Grand Jury Closes Its Session with a Visit to the Poor Farm—The Convictions.

The grand jury concluded its labors to-day by visiting the county asylum. Yesterday they inspected the jail and their praise of the management of both institutions is noteworthy. On their visits to the jail and county asylum the grand jurors say:

Your grand jury respectfully report that we have made an official visit to and examination of the county asylum and farm. We are pleased to have to report that everything about and in this institution is kept scrupulously clean and neat. That in the health and comfort of the inmates everything is as carefully watched and guarded as can well be expected in the crowded state of the asylum. The general health of the inmates is good; their wants and needs carefully provided for, and in the opinion of the grand jury the institution is excellently managed. The farm seems to be kept in a good, husbandlike manner and we can honestly compliment the superintendent on the condition of this public institution.

JOSHUA HOLMES,
Foreman.

To Hon. E. O'Rourke, Judge:
Your grand jury respectfully report that they have made an official visit to and examination of the county jail and found it in all respects in excellent condition. It is neatly and cleanly kept, the prison fare good and wholesome, the health of the prisoners good, and the discipline perfect. So far as we can see the jail is perfectly safe for the confinement of prisoners. We were freely accorded opportunity to examine all parts of the building and yard. We were courteously received and hospitably entertained by the sheriff and his officers, and found nothing to criticize, but much to commend, in the conduct of the jail officials in the care and management of that institution.

JOSHUA HOLMES,
Foreman.

This morning Wm. DeWort, who assaulted Wm. McGonigle in a Monroeville barber shop, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. He will have to pay or board it out in jail.

Charly Pierson was arraigned for stealing blankets from the Tremont house, but he proposes to stand trial and will have a chance.

The case of the State vs. Nellie Hines came up to-day and Judge O'Rourke gave an important decision in the matter. He holds that the prosecutor can bring a case into court and try a criminal on information alone. The judge also holds that if the grand jury investigates a case and returns no indictment, the prosecutor can take the case into court on information over their shoulders. S. L. Morris, attorney for Miss Hines, will appeal the case to the supreme court.

NOT SO GAY.

Will Hawksworth and Belle Arquette Sent to Jail.

THE SENTINEL last night noted the arrest of Wm. J. Hawksworth, a Nickel Plate road man, and Mrs. Belle Arquette, for living in sinful adultery. The parties were found guilty and Mayor Muhler sentenced the lovers to jail for one day each and fined them $32. They will emerge from their prison at 6 o'clock this evening and then Mrs. Arquette's husband, who made the complaint, had better make himself scarce as Hawksworth is not only a wrestler but quite handy with his fists. Mrs. Arquette used to be in a house of ill fame at Cleveland before she married Arquette, who is decidedly a chump. The woman and Hawksworth had just fixed up a room on West Main street, when the marshal broke up their honeymoon.

The Darlington Bros., Messrs. Ervin Noble and Ed Davis, give a very novel show. Their benefit for the Fort Wayne rifles was the first chance their friends had of seeing them and another exhibition is talked of. THE SENTINEL is well pleased with their business on rollers.

To-morrow is a universal Christian holiday. It is observed here and elsewhere with great solemnity. THE SENTINEL will not be issued to-morrow, in keeping with the custom of the country to observe Christmas day.

The box office of the Masonic Temple will be opened on Saturday morning and afternoon for the sale of tickets for the second subscription concert of Miss Anderson.

The recent order for the expulsion of other German-Americans remains suspended.

THE MARKETS.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

Trustee Gaffney gave money freely from his own purse to a number of deserving poor. No man ever filled the office of township trustee more acceptably than he does, and THE SENTINEL would like to see him go higher.

TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now called a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the bowels and kidneys and corrects the action of the liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the disease may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unaided, by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It is invigorating like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, disperse headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A FAVORABLE OPINION.
I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the liver to a ton, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. Scrofula of Lungs Relieved.

I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with lung trouble. Several members of the family on my mother's side of the house had died with consumption, and the doctors were all agreed in their opinion that I had consumption also. I had all the distressing symptoms of that terrible disease. I have spent thousands of dollars to arrest the march of this disease. I have employed all of the usual methods, not only in my own case, but in the treatment of other members of my family, but temporary relief was all that I obtained. I was unfit for any manual labor for several years. By chance I came into possession of a pamphlet on "Blood and Skin Disease," from the office of Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga. A friend recommended the use of Swift's Specific claiming that he himself had been greatly benefited by its use in some lung troubles. I resolved to try it. About four years ago I commenced to take S. S. S. according to directions. I found it an invigorating tonic, and have used about fifty bottles. The results are most remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. It has been three years since I stopped the use of the medicine, but I have had no return of the disease, and there are no pains or weakness felt in my lungs. I do the hardest kind of mechanical work, and feel well as I felt since I was a boy. These, I know, are wonderful statements to make, but I am honest when I say that I owe my existence and health today to Swift's Specific. It is the only medicine that brought me any permanent relief. I do not say that Swift's Specific will do this in every case, but most positively affirm that it has done this much for me, and I would be recreant to the duty I owe to suffering humanity if I failed to bear this cheerful testimony to the merits of this wonderful medicine. I am well known in the city of Montgomery, and can refer to some of the best citizens in the city.

CHRISTMAS IN NORSELAND.

BY H. H. BOYSEN.

Christmas in Norway is not, as with us, a brief commemoration of the birth of Christ, confined only to the day which the church has fixed upon for this celebration. It is rather the winter vacation—a season of uninterrupted festivity, during which every one, high and low, takes his pleasure in accordance with his taste. A man who has been sober all the year round, but regards being drunk as the highest form of happiness, procures the needed supply of brandy, retires to his room, and "celebrates." Another, who prefers convivial celebration, goes to a dancing party and picks quarrels right and left, conducting himself as "the cock of the walk," until some one who cherishes the same ambition temporarily disables him.

Young people of higher tastes make up large sleighing parties, and descend on masse upon some rich neighbor, who, with open arms and the large-handed hospitality peculiar to Norsemen, receives the unbidden guests and provides all the necessaries for a Yuletide entertainment. Laughter, music, and the whirl of dancing feet resound through the great old-fashioned house, while the host with his cheery voice encourages every one to do his best, and, perhaps, even himself treads a sedate and stately waltz with the wife of his bosom. When, at last, the tardy daylight surprises the revelers, the chances are ten to one that the hearty host will offer the whole company beds, and bid them stay and continue the merriment the next night. Then they may "go yule-bucks," that is visit the neighbors round about with masks and in various grotesque disguises, and afford the latter an excuse for inviting them to another entertainment, and so "keep the ball rolling."

Thus the holidays pass in the remote country districts in Norway; all business is interrupted, and Prince Carnival has full sway. Among the poorer classes, who cannot afford to celebrate at their own expense, it is common to send the children out as "star-boys," that is, they pull white night-shirts on the outside of their ordinary garment, and give them a large canvas star, with a lighted lantern inside of it. These children then go trudging through the deep snow, stopping at every house at the roadside, and singing under the windows in their shrill child-voices, Christmas-carols of the Star of Bethlehem and the Child in the Manger. Everywhere they are invited in and rewarded for their exertions with food and pennies.

It is one of the most pathetic features of Christmas in Norway—these white-robed little children with their red, frost-bitten faces, and their shrill, eager, often dissonant voices. But life is hard up there under the Arctic circle for the young as well as the old; and a blessed relief from the daily struggle for bread is this brief holiday season, during which there is actually peace upon earth and good-will among men.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS.

Decorated Eggs for Christmas Trees.

Select smooth, perfect eggs, and make a small hole the size of a pea at the large end, and a smaller one at the other end. A needle is the best to make holes. Put the end with the small hole to your mouth and blow steadily until the egg is all blown out of the shell. Wash through two waters and stand in the sun to dry. Next take pink ribbon, one-third inch wide and three inches long, give the ends of the ribbon on the end of the egg having the large hole, so the center will form a long loop to hold it by, and the ends will cover the hole.

Or another way is to put narrow ribbon through the egg and tie in the center. Now get out your palette board, fine brushes and colors. First dip each brush in turpentine, and use plenty of megilph with the colors. Paint roses, violets, and daisies on each. I never paint but one spray on each egg. Do not put the paints on smooth, but raise the petals of roses and blossoms, shading nicely. I have painted four dozen, no two of them alike; some have birds, and one large egg shows two cunning chickens outside of an old coop. The shells, being empty, are much stronger and easier to handle, besides lasting for years. The brown eggs are prettily painted in violets or wild roses.

Yr Christmas day on Thursday be, A windy wynter so shall ye be. Of wynter and wynter all wrecked, And hanks tempests strong and thyke. The sooner shall ye good and drye, Cornys and bestes shall multiplye, That yere ys good londes to tythe. —Harleian MS., 15th century.

The combination, proportion, and process in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla, are peculiar to this medicine, and unknown to others.

A PALACE OF MUSIC.

Wagner & Joost's Great Piano Warehouse, No. 27 West Main Street.

The piano rooms of Messrs. Wagner & Joost, No. 27 West Main street, are familiar to most of our readers, but few realize the amount of business transacted there, or the splendid quality of the instruments presented by this house to the public. Within the past two weeks these gentlemen have sold cabinet grand upright pianos to John Wessell, jr., of Hanna street; Philip Graff, of Lafayette street; Joseph Derheimer, of East Lewis street, and Rev. William Schubert, of Lockwood, Mo. This firm handles the celebrated Hazelton Brothers and Kranich & Bach pianos and all the most standard and popular organs. Our reporter yesterday saw a new Hazelton upright piano, finished in genuine French walnut, which is one of the most beautiful instruments ever shown in this market. The workmanship is simply perfect, and the case forms an article of furniture that would ornament a palace. But it is not in the case alone that the Hazelton instruments excel. No finer instrument is manufactured than this. In tone, it is perfect, and in durability no instrument can compare with the Hazelton. In connection with the piano rooms of Messrs. Wagner & Joost, is a workshop for the repair of pianos and organs of any make. Good work and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

People who don't believe advertising pays should try to get into the stores of the big advertisers of Fort Wayne and face the rush and jam at the counters, and then take an easy view of the quiet places where they "have money by not advertising." It will be noticed that those who do not advertise are anxious to get near to those who do. Thousands of dollars worth of trade is brought to Fort Wayne by the big advertisers every year. Of course, those who have not enterprise get some of the benefits of it. But they do not deserve it.

A PALACE OF MUSIC.

Wagner & Joost's Great Piano Warehouse, No. 27 West Main Street.

The piano rooms of Messrs. Wagner & Joost, No. 27 West Main street, are familiar to most of our readers, but few realize the amount of business transacted there, or the splendid quality of the instruments presented by this house to the public. Within the past two weeks these gentlemen have sold cabinet grand upright pianos to John Wessell, jr., of Hanna street; Philip Graff, of Lafayette street; Joseph Derbeimer, of East Lewis street, and Rev. William Schust, of Lockwood, Mo. This firm handles the celebrated Hazelton Brothers and Kranich & Bach pianos and all the most standard and popular organs. Our reporter yesterday saw a new Hazelton upright piano, finished in genuine French walnut, which is one of the most beautiful instruments ever shown in this market. The workmanship is simply perfect, and the case forms an article of furniture that would ornament a palace. But it is not in the case alone that the Hazelton instruments excel. No finer instrument is manufactured than this. In tone, it is perfect, and in durability no instrument can compare with the Hazelton. In connection with the piano rooms of Messrs. Wagner & Joost, is a workshop for the repair of pianos and organs of any make. Good work and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.
